LEAGUE GAME PREVIEW

The Bulls left South Auckland one game off the bottom of the table and returned following the cashing in of a South Island double in finals contention after the near seamless injection of Corey Webster's all around offensive game. And that bounce was more than enough for a defence that only allowed an average of 68 points by holding opponents to 11-of-47 from the 3-point line over the two road wins, indicating the defence will still offer its rugged resistance. But a different task is at hand after the recent burly battles down low with the elastic Saints coming to town to play the second half of a road double. It will be a contrast in styles as the half court oriented Bulls try to control the possession game and dominate the glass to secure the win, but it will be a more difficult task with Mike Smith firing and drawing bodies off of boxing out assignments and into passing lanes. And those little advantages are all that Taane Samuel and the forward brigade need to get their hands on the ball and ignite a high powered offence. - Casey Frank
